

2022 WACTC PROMISING PRACTICES EXCHANGE: CALL FOR PROPOSALS

SBCTC in collaboration with the Washington Association of Community & Technical Colleges (WACTC), will hold another round of Promising Practices webinars this year.

Please “Save the Date” - Two webinar sessions have already been scheduled:

February 17 Meeting Student Mental Health Needs
1:00 p.m. – 2:30 p.m.

April 21 Meeting Student Basic Needs
1:00 p.m. – 3:00 p.m.

For more information about the Exchange, what is meant by a “promising practice” in our system, and a submission form with instructions for submitting your practice, visit:

<https://www.sbctc.edu/about/task-forces-work-groups/strategic-enrollment/promising-practices.aspx>

To be considered for the Meeting Student Mental Health Needs panel presentation on February 17, please submit your promising practice no later than Friday, January 28.

We are seeking submissions to our Promising Practices Exchange:

Webinar themes are determined in large part by your submissions. If you have any ideas for additional sessions, we need to hear from you. This series is currently focused on practices related to the two topics above, however we welcome submissions in other practice areas described on the SBCTC website.

Two strengths of our community and technical college system have always been our willingness to share “what is working” at our colleges with each other and our ability to scale and adapt those practices to other settings, all for the benefit of our students. Please share your promising practices!

For more information, please contact Joe Holliday, SBCTC Director of Student Services, at jholliday@sbctc.edu. Thank you!
