

BIT Cases at the Crossroads

Navigating the Intersectionality of Title IX, Student Conduct, Threat Assessment, and Behavioral Intervention Cases on Campus

May 31, 8 a.m.-4:30 p.m., and June 1, 8 a.m.-12 p.m.
Black Box Theatre at Edmonds Community College

This 1.5 day training provides college administrators with additional knowledge, skills, and tools to improve their responses in concerning student behavioral situations. The training will discuss legal mandates, best practices, field research, and practical case studies to explore the intersections of behavioral intervention, ADA, Title IX, and student conduct in the community college context. Participants will leave with a refresher in research as well as practical ideas to improve campus procedures.

Speaker: Laura Bennett

- Current Title IX Coordinator at Nova Southeastern University
- Has held positions at William Rainey Harper College, University of California, Berkeley, Colorado University
- Published author
- Member of the Association of Title IX Administrations (ATIXA)
- Masters of Education in College Student Services Administration from Oregon State University
- Over 15 years working with behavioral issues in higher education
- President of the Association of Student Conduct Administrators (ASCA)

$50 | Register at bit.ly/2rwsKFo

Breakfast and lunch provided on May 31, breakfast provided on June 1

If you need accommodations for any type of disability call 425.640.1320, or email ssdmail@edcc.edu, or visit the Services for Students with Disabilities in Mountlake Terrace Hall 159. Please mention you will be attending the BIT training at Edmonds CC.